Summary

I am a young Front-end web developer who was always adventurous on learning new coding skills and experiences. I graduated in 2021 with a Computer Science degree, currently working as a Front-end web developer. I have industrial working experience in building websites. The programming languages that I have experience are JavaScript, HTML, CSS and PHP. I am currently improving my JavaScript skill by learning ReactJS framework, and hope to implement the skill and knowledge into real-life project.
